Key Findings in California

1. California Latinos' top issues are consistent with Latinos across the country: inflation, jobs/economy, health care, affordable housing, and crime/gun violence.

- Food and basic necessities, housing/rent, gasoline and health insurance are the principal issues driving concern about inflation
- Jobs/economy concerns are largely focused on the need for better pay, with some worry about benefits
- For healthcare, the costs of insurance and prescription drugs worry California Latinos deeply

2. Immigration remains a priority issue in California (ranked as 6th top issue).

- Providing a path to citizenship for Dreamers and other immigrants with long-standing ties in the country are the two major policies Latino voters want to see advanced on immigration.
- California Latinos also want to see protections against deportation and expanded pathways for legal immigration

3. Climate concern is high, and California Latinos think action is urgently needed to forestall weather and climate related catastrophes. Only 6% doubt the reality of climate change.

4. Latino voters see Democrats as more aligned with their values and views, on a host of issues including treating people with dignity/respect, democracy and elections, health care, and elections. Yet many Latino voters don't feel that either party truly cares about the Latino community.

5. Looking forward to the 2024 elections, President Biden holds a substantial polling lead among Latino voters in California, while the U.S. Senate race remains competitive at this early stage.

- Democratic Representatives Katie Porter, Barbara Lee, and Adam Schiff are the top three candidates, each with equal percentage of Latino support in an extremely tight race for U.S. Senate
- President Biden's approval rating stands at 50%, and in potential 2024 match-ups he holds a 21+point lead over former President Trump and 33+point lead over Florida Governor Ron DeSantis

6. In 2024, 23% of Latinos in California will be voting in their first presidential election

- 16% for the first time in ANY federal election
- Another 17% voted for the first time in 2020
- 41% of California's Latino electorate is new since Hillary Clinton and Donald Trump faced off in 2016.
